LOWREZJAM requires the game to render to 64x64 pixels, rather than work in a group I decided to work on it solo which really stretched my comfort zone.

GameDev.tv 2023 Game Jam

A top-down PS1 style cave exploration game where valuable crystals and food can be found. Only thing stopping their collection is the infestation of photophobic dwellers. Tourmaline Multiplayer Experiment Project using Unity, C#, PlayFab for accounts, and Photon for Networking.

Worked with the after-school program at my local Elementary School teaching basic programming and computer skills through the MIT-created tool Scratch. Cut short due to school closing for the Pandemic.
